

Worth the Splurge

NOVEL NOZZLES

Whether matte or polished, linear or curved, today's most luxurious faucets are sure to turn heads. Embolden your kitchen's character with one of our newest finds. WRITER Mallory Abreu

A rich finish and old-world handle and spout details prove there's more to a polished look than polish itself. Davoli Pull-Down Kitchen Faucet in Satin Bronze ($1,332). California Faucets; calfaucets.com

Chunky geometry and a high-polish finish modernize any kitchen. Quartile Pull-Out Kitchen Faucet in Polished Chrome ($697). Rohl; rohlhome.com

360-degree rotation capabilities, temperature memory, and a high-arc gooseneck spout make this faucet fit for a chef. Tournant in Polished Chrome ($600). Kohler; us.kohler.com

This hands-free spout pulls out from a sculpturally conical body, complete with an ergonomically designed handle. Talis Select HighArc Kitchen Faucet in Chrome ($612). Hansgrohe; hansgrohe-usa.com

Consider bonus features like a spot-resistant finish, hands-free technology, or a pullout sprayer.

Curvature and linearity combine through stainless steel and silicone in this modern European design. Essence Semi-Pro with Matte Sheer Marble silicone hose and chrome finish ($699). Grohe; grohe.com

Slim curves and a statement, spot-resistant finish make this faucet black-tie ready. Align in Matte Black ($486). Moen; moen.com